

MASTER THESIS POSITION IN NEUROINFLAMMATION ("Treball fi de master")

Two positions for master students are available in the Neuroinflammation group at the School of Medicine, UB; campus casanova. We are a small UB-CSIC research group, focused on the study of microglial cells (http://taller.iec.cat/neurocat/grup_un.asp?id_neuro=120).

One project will involve the study of the neuroinflammatory response to nanoporous silica particles, mainly in vitro, eventually also in vivo. The second project will involve the study of α -synuclein-induced effects on a novel preparation of in vitro adult human microglia-like cells in culture.
